

GET REAL Involved!

SATURDAY APRIL 16, 2011

8:30 a.m. - 5 p.m.

Coastal Clean Up

Marine debris (trash) is a worldwide problem; an estimated 14 billion pounds of trash are dumped in the ocean yearly. As many as 100,000 Marine animals and two million sea birds die each year from eating or ingesting marine debris.

We will head to a Tampa Bay coastal area to perform a "Clean Up." We will scour for marine debris and trash. We will spend about four hours performing clean up.

Afterwards we'll head to the beach for some well-deserved fun!

Register online! And bring this slip with you Saturday morning!
